Notes for Rebecca Lee Smith:

My Birth name was Rebecca Lee Smith. I was born June 7, 1962 in Kremmling, Grand County, Colorado to Roberta Ruth Barkey David Smith (1924-2001) and LeRoy Charles Smith(1930-?). My mother told me many times that I was supposed to be LeRoy Charles Jr. but was born the wrong sex! In those days there were not ultrasounds to determine the sex of the babies. Ancestry I've been very interested in our family history from childhood. I always enjoyed listening to the family stories and dreamed of meeting some of these wondrous people. I know much of my interest stemmed from my parents divorcing just before I was 3 years old and feeling abandoned by my father and his family. I spent my early research gathering from Aunts and Uncles, stories from my Mother and attempting to organize this information. Later in life I met Aunt Patsy (My father's sister) whom also traced the family history and gave me lots of insight and forms to do it with. She was a big help to the organization of the information that I had. Even later in life when computers became normal household appliances my wonderful husband bought me a program called Family Tree Maker. I've spent many hours with this program and the internet and have created a HUGE family with much delight! Birth/Adoption of Children Children were a dream of mine for a very long time. I had an unfortunate abusive childhood that caused me lots of concern as to whether I would ever be able to conceive children. When I became pregnant in 1985 with my first born daughter, Regina, I was elated and scared- I was not married and although most of the "stigma" of unwed mothers was over in my liberated world I did want the security of marriage. Regina was born in 1986 and I became pregnant again in 1987. I miscarried Nicholas at 5 months Mar 1988. Michael, the father of both of my children and I married that November. In 1990 we were blessed with another daughter, Adriane. We decided that this would be plenty of children since Michael did also have 2 sons from his first marriage. With this decision Mike had a vasectomy done so that I would not have to use hormonal changing drugs. Death and Losing Loved Ones The first death we had to deal with as a married couple was the death of Marion Anabele Maloney (Mike's Mother). She passed away Jan 1987. This was difficult because it meant to me that she would not know my children as her grandchildren- she treated me very kind and Mike misses her immensely. We then buried our son in 1988, which was absolutely devastating to me. I became so depressed that I do believe if Mike had not been by my side during the next 6 months I would not have lived. I know he was hurt by the loss of this child, but he certainly put his hurt aside and took very good care of me. My brother committed suicide in January of 1990. I was pregnant with Adriane at the time and most people felt that the stress would cause me to have another miscarriage. Thanks to our Savior and Lord, Adriane was born without complications. My mother became ill and came to live with us. Once again it was Mike that gave me the strength to deal with all the issues that come from caring for a loved one at home. She passed away in 2001 having given her all to each of her children.

Demonstrations and Protests I am very non confrontational so have not participated in Protests and such. I do remember walking with my brother in his Army uniform after he had returned home from Viet Nam- someone actually spit on him and called him a baby killer. They did not my brother- or how badly that moment hurt him and me. It was the very last time he wore his uniform. I have felt strongly about many issues but don't feel we have the right to hurt others to prove our own points.

Discrimination & Issues of Race Being a woman I've faced many types of discrimination. I do have to say that during my life time it has been much better for women than in the past. I read a letter written by my Aunt talking about voting for Roosevelt for President if she could. She saw the laws change and women being allowed to vote, when as a young woman it was only a dream to vote. I've faced more of the Good Ole Boys discrimination- where men are in charge, women can't be the boss, etc. Less pay for the same work- which is definitely one area that irritates me.

Divorce My parents divorced just before my 3rd birthday. I was raised in Tucson, AZ with my Mother. Divorce is devastating no matter how it happens. I never had any contact with my father, he chose to stay out of my life. My mother married 6 times in her lifetime- 5 of which were pedophiles. She said she didn't know it- I think she chose to turn a blind eye to it. It left a lot of scars that will never totally heal.

Driving Once again, this is something else that fell to my Mother. She was an incredible driving instructor. On top of everything else she did for me while I had my permit my fondest memory would be this: Mom says to me that you and Debbie (my best friend) have been doing well driving around town but I think before you get your full licenses we should make a road trip and give each of you some highway experience. This weekend we will drive to Bisbee, AZ have lunch and come home. You girls decide who drives down and the other one will drive back. So along comes Saturday and we've decided that I will drive down and Debbie will drive back. I am cruising along at 55 MPH when way off in the distance I see emergency lights. I keep driving. I can finally tell they are ambulance lights driving towards me. My Mom says "What do you do when you see emergency vehicles?" I answer, you pull over to the right and stop giving them right of way. She says okay then let's do that. I with a death grip on the steering wheel look her dead in the eye and scream- I FORGOT HOW TO STOP. My eyes are back on the road now, my Mom's calm completely relaxed voice says you are going to let off the gas, push in the clutch and downshift. Which at this point I am regaining some senses and know what to do. So we arrive at Bisbee which has a curve coming into the town which is a 25 MPH curve. I do not know why I did not see the signs slowing me down- but I was half way through the curve - it felt as though we were on two wheels when my Mom's hand reaches up to the dash to maintain her balance and her reassuring voice says, "I think you can slow down now." She was so right about needing some highway experience- it was much different than driving from stop light to stop light within Tucson City Limits. I don't recall Debbie making any stupid mistakes going home, but it would be fun to hear how she remembers it!

Education I went to Nursery School at Outer Limits. The Nelson's owned the school and were very kind people. I continued to go there after school for many years since my Mom was a single mom and needed a safe place for me to go. I remember a black girl coming to school when we were in nursery school. Her name was Cindy and she had really long hair that was braided. They are called pigtailed (terrible name) I wanted my hair to look like that. Cindy and I played and enjoyed each other very much. I remember her last day there at school there was only her and I- which I liked because there was no hassles. Being from a divorced home I was shunned as much as Cindy was. As an adult I asked my Mom about this memory- she told me all the other parents pulled their kids out because they didn't want them near a black person. So Mrs. Nelson had to ask Cindy's parents to take her somewhere else because they could run the school with just two of us. From here I went to Davidson Elementary, then on to Doolen Jr. High. I began my High school years at Catalina High School through my Junior year. I finished my Senior year in Kremmling, CO at West Grand High School. I graduated 4th in my class with a 3.9 grade average. I am very proud of this because it was completed earned on not just handed to me. My Senior year was a tough one because I gave up and failed several classes in my Junior year. So I had some make up to do. I also had to take a Science class that I didn't expect too because Colorado required more science than Arizona did. I choose to Zoology. He handed out two major thesis's to be done by year's end- one was free choice and one was a bug collection of 50 bugs - pinned and labeled. I chose to do the evolution of a horse- I knew this blindfolded and thought I would "skate" through it. Mr. Gross was awesome he said: "Na, I've heard that a hundred times- I want you to do the anatomy of a horse". I tried to get out of it but he was adamant. This project was a tough one so I chose to work on it first. It took me until February to reconstruct a horse from a dead horse's bones. My father helped me make a shoulder blade out of plaster of paris- I received an A+ on this project and my horse hung in his lab until he retired from teaching. I then jumped onto my bug collection. It was February in Kremmling, CO. There are no bugs. I began asking around- remember I grew up in Tucson, AZ - there are always bugs. Not when the weather is 30 below zero there are not bugs. Bugs don't reappear until late May. School gets out on May 15th. I begin to panic. My grandfather calls and says, Becky I didn't clean out my bug catcher last year- maybe you can get some bugs there. Thanks to Granddad Smith I put together a bug collection of 30 different types. I had a few duplicates explaining the different stages of their lives. I spoke with Mr. Gross about my dilemma. One of the many suggestions given was to order bugs from a laboratory but Mr. Gross felt that given the circumstances he would accept my 30 bugs. He gave me a B on that collection thus causing my overall grade in his class to be a B - hence the 3.9 instead of a 4.0 - but no regrets- I learned, lived and loved my senior year of high school. Family Relations I have many fond memories of my Mother, sister and brother. Even though incest began at a very young age in my life, my Mother raised us to be a close, forgiving family. Linda and Dave (my brother and sister) were much older than I. They were born in 1948 and 1949- I in 1962. So they were adults for most of my memories. I came home one day from 7th or 8th grade very distraught. It was at this point that I realized that Linda and Dave were not completely related to me, and in my dismay believing them to be my stepbrother and stepsister was completely confused why neither of them treated me hatefully. And although I knew we had different fathers my entire life why had I not figured this out sooner? Mom wondered what was wrong and why I was so terribly concerned. I explained the dilemma I had come across that day- and she began laughing. Once she could talk again, she explained the difference between half-siblings and step-siblings. Which gave me hope that they would never hate me! As an adult I think back to how awesome our Mom had to have been. I knew the truth- different marriages and such but we were all just family- not half-siblings in any form of the word! My youngest step-son was living with the mother of his child and we all gathered for a family meal. My youngest daughter had hit that stage of life, trying to figure out half-sibling, step-parent and we had a lengthy discussion over dinner with everyone giving her input. My (unofficial) daughter-in-law pipes in at the end of the conversation and says: "But in our family, we just have love for each other- no stepfamily - we are all just family". It still causes me to tear up thinking of her saying that- it is what I feel and believe she just stated it eloquently for everyone to hear. I met my father once when I was 10 then again when I was 17. I ended up living with him for 4 years which is unbelievable that I survived. I did survive it though and successfully prosecuted him in Grand County, Colorado in 1992 for Aggravated Incest. Family Traditions Due to sexual abuse invading every aspect of my life- I chose to do away with traditional family celebrations. If you don't gather with them they can't hurt you or your children. I've missed some of the family because of this but managed to raise my children safe from my past. My husband was also very non traditional, spontaneous sort of person so we just kind of made it up as we went along, which most of the time meant everyone had a lot more fun.

Foreign Events As a young person it was Viet Nam. My brother served one tour over there, as did many other young men that I knew. I was only 7 when my brother's tour was over and he came home with drug and alcohol problems that left scars on his entire family. I've always been saddened by the civil wars in the many countries around the world that are constantly killing- it is heartbreaking. I don't usually see things from the political realm usually from the human (Mom) realm.

Friendships I've not had many friends through the years. I was such a bully in elementary school that I built walls that I never learned how to tear down. I finally got beat up and that turned me into a loner. I did have Cindy Beck (married Wenz) as a friend from 2nd grade through high school- she moved a lot and I've lost track of her. There also was Debbie Irlbeck (married Clark) who was a neighbor and close friend that I've also lost track of. Most of the people I knew before I got married drifted away when I got married and most of the friends or acquaintances we have known through out the years wanted nothing to do with us after our arrest for marijuana.

Gender Issues It has been a very interesting life. I grew up during the era of women's liberation. I've been to bra burning parties. I saw my Mother underpaid her entire life and struggle to raise her children while none of their fathers paid a dime. So it made me decide that I would be INDEPENDENT. I would never need a man. Then I met my husband. Who was strong enough to fend off my father trying to get him out of my life. Yet gentle enough to let me "wear the pants". Some view him as lazy, and at times I've accused him of being lazy- but truly God sent me a life partner to support the needs I had, and still have. I was never willing to allow a man to support me - in my warped mind that meant he would own me - and I would have to do what he wanted. Mike and I have always worked but I have usually earned more, had better incentives or something. Mike has loved me enough to accept all my quirks and flaws even when he didn't know them or understand them. I wanted my daughter's to have that same independence. Regina has chosen to be a stay at home Mother to MY grandsons. I am so very proud of her. It is funny, I would have thought it would upset me, because it is the opposite of what I tried to get her to do- but I am very happy and proud of her. Adriane is very independent. I see it being as much of a problem for her as it was for me to find the right man to stand by her, but when she does find him it will be AWESOME! Updated on 8/14/11 I am now the proud Grandma of Christiane who is 14, Asher 5, Isaiah 4, and Caedin 1 ½. Christiane's father is Keith- Asher and Isaiah are Regina's and Caedin is Adriane's.

Holidays Being self employed for going on 21 years now- Holidays mean EXTRA WORK - no time for us. It is a little better now, but still we see the world get 3 day weekends, vacations and such which we don't and never have. It has both Mike and I worn out and down- I keep hoping around the corner is a permanent vacation to make up for all the missed ones.

Hometown I was born in Kremmling, CO (Small town, USA) but raised in Tucson, AZ (Big City, USA). I despised Tucson for a very long time. I decided that Tucson was full of bad people - on the verge of evil people and swore when I got away I would never go back. Well I got to get away and move to Kremmling- the town people welcomed me home. This town is definitely small town USA. But I met my father and realized that the evil followed me wherever I went. It was a big learning step for me though- I got over hating Tucson and after many years stopped hating myself too!

Immigration I feel as though we are all immigrants who stole the Indian nation that we call the USA. But I find my husband's views very interesting and more knowledgeable that I expected on this topic. Arnold Schwarzenager has been elected Governor of California. He is an immigrant from Hungary (I Think) who began as a body builder, became an actor and is now a politician. My husband tells me that he is trying to change the laws so that he can run for President. I make an ignorant comment like why can't an immigrant run for President? Well it seems our founding fathers wrote it into law- whom were all immigrants themselves- so I don't understand. But my husband registered to vote so that he could help make sure that law doesn't get changed. Our country is overrun with illegal immigrants from Mexico and South America. I do understand they are trying to better their lives but they are a complete drain on our economy, making it hard for the everyday worker (laborer) to earn a fair wage. Inventions and Innovations Life has changed from many perspectives but I feel in my lifetime technology has far outgrown many other aspects of life. As a small child we had television in our home. It had one dial with up to twelve stations but usually you only received 3 maybe 4 channels. Today everyone has T.V. with cable or satellite with literally hundreds of stations. All TV's are sold with remote controls and most of us don't know how to operate our TV's without the remote. As a child, radio was on AM. As a teenager FM started coming up with a few "elevator music" stations. Now today everything is FM- AM still exists but barely! We went from playing music on LP's or records to 8 track tapes to cassettes to CD's. Now today the newest phase which I don't own yet would be MPEG players- music files! I worked with my first computer in 1982. I enjoyed it very much- found the transition easy from typing up the paper, then filing it to data entry on a computer. Today every public school has a computer lab. Most of the time before a child finishes elementary school they are proficient on a computer. They have become a way of life. We still call them "PC" Personal computer- and it is so bad in our house that each of us have our own desktop computer. We continually shop for a laptop for Adriane to take to college with her. And of course all of the computers are hooked to the internet superhighway of information at our house! The internet- from your living room you can visit the Eiffel Tower. I wanted to own a new set of encyclopedia's because I love history and reading about it- on my computer I can access ANYTHING, ANYTIME that I want. It is incredible. Unfortunately being human I've seen and used it for not good things as well. But I do very much enjoy it for research. Legal Matters I always tried to live my life obeying the law and respecting people who served the law. I never had much use for drugs or alcohol - having seen it wreck so many lives around me. I did tolerate my husband smoking marijuana. I did not allow it to be around our children. But in 1999 we all received a huge smack in the face with the drug task force of our Garfield County, Colorado known as Trident busting into our home and arresting Mike and I for possession of marijuana, possession with intent to distribute and 4 counts as a "Special Offender" meaning we possessed 4 handguns. Well Mike swore he had less than 8 ounces (which would have been a misdemeanor charge) and the police had an argument in our house that I heard stating it was a bad bust because there wasn't even 7 ounces. But when we got out of jail that night we were charged with possession of 1.02 lbs. Two years later one of the arresting officers was discharged for planting evidence at other crime scenes- we were offered dropping our convictions of possession with intent to distribute and starting back at the arrest but I chose not to repeat the traumatic experience. My husband became drug and alcohol free which is a blessing. But the entire experience left a taste of distrust for our legal system, police officers, probation and such. I now feel that if you have enough money you can receive justice and medical treatment in America- but only if you have enough money. Forgive my digression but I felt I should give a few other experiences that I have had with the law and courts. I did testify once when I was 13 in a custody battle. My best friend's family were going through a divorce and I spoke up for their father to get custody of the kids- at the time I honestly felt they would be better off adopted- but my friend and her siblings wanted to live with their father, not their mother and he did win custody of the kids. When I moved to Kremmling I met most all of the town police, and the state troopers that handled our section of Highway 40. All of these men were Officers and Gentlemen. I also had a good report with our Sheriff, being Huck Henderson. I gladly called him personally to chat, visit and such. Upon my arrest many years later in a different county my view of police officers has changed a lot- but I do remember when I felt they were my neighbors and friends. Looking Over A Lifetime I am only 44- and hope that I get many more years on this earth. I've accomplished creating a good and Godly life out of a dysfunctional childhood. I've raised two beautiful daughters and had the privilege of

spending lots of time with stepsons. So far I have one granddaughter and one grandson which are complete joys in my life. I've seen obesity become a terrible problem in the USA and that we still struggle with racism and not loving each other. I've struggled with organized religion most of my life but since our arrest have truly come to know Jesus Christ as my savior and God. He has helped through every rough episode in my life and I continue to grow closer and to know him better on a daily basis. Marriage I fell in love when I was 15. His name was Ronald John Towkarski. He was 34. I got pregnant and he abandoned me after forcing me to have an abortion. That was a rough start to love after having the sexual abuse in my life. I married Michael James Maloney and we have had a fairly good marriage. It has not been easy but I am very grateful that he stuck out years of healing from sexual abuse. We managed to ride many storms of life so far and hope to continue from here. Medical Epidemics It seems there is always some major disease sweeping the planet but so far I've not been personally hurt by any of them. HIV is a disease that seems to have started during my lifetime and has taken a lot of lives. Cancer has been terrible but not as life threatening anymore. I worry more about "germ warfare" than natural epidemics. But I decided a long time ago to be healthy and God helps me keep that plan in effect. Medical History As a child growing up in Tucson I caught every virus within 100 miles of me. I was sick most of the time- once I moved to Colorado that seemed to end for me- I became healthy as a horse. I take vitamin supplements regularly and have learned to treat many ailments with vitamins and nutrition rather than drugs. During a period of time having to work two jobs to pay the bills I developed some bizarre ailments- but I do believe it was my body screaming for me to slow down. I have pinched nerves in my feet, bunions and occasionally extreme swelling in my legs. Overall now that my body is not overworked anymore I am doing much better! Throughout the years I've developed my own homeopathic medical care and avoid seeing Doctors whenever possible. I do not understand people who think Dr.'s cure everything, nor do I understand Dr.'s who think they can- Raising an asthmatic child I learned to educate myself in our needs and to only seek a Dr. if I couldn't handle it- such as asthma. Most everything else I treat with vitamins and nutrition. Moving My personal biggest move was from AZ to CO. Overall it was a good move- it was a fun move! I loaded one suitcase in my Brothers truck and left everything else behind. We followed a friend of his to Hawthorne, Nevada for an Endurance Boat Race. The boat was named "Close Encounters" and painted Black with strips of yellow, orange and red. So on the drive to the race us 3 girls bought black bikini's and embroidered across our rumps I LOVE CLOSE ENCOUNTERS. Rick (the boat owner) lost the race but it was a terribly fun weekend! Dave, Sharon and I arrived in CO on July 29, 1979. I was in hopes of a brand new start to life- unfortunately Dave's drinking put a damper on my excitement and I moved in with my Father, which proved to be jumping out of the pan into the fire- once I finally broke away from LeRoy then my life began new and pretty doggone good. Natural Disasters I've been through a couple of earthquakes visiting my sister, Linda in California. None of the big ones I am glad to say! I decided long ago that I did not want to live where the ground moved! My daughter, Regina, is now making her home in Oklahoma. I know God will look after her- but I do get concerned when tornado season is upon her. I like my safe, solid mountains that don't shake or blow away! There was a tsunami in India last year 2005. It was horrific to see the film coverage of the devastation- I am so grateful to not have been there and pray for those who are. Occupation My very first job was babysitting. And I did lots of it! One summer I was taking care of 10 kids a day. The summer I was thirteen I worked at a riding stables. I arrived every morning, caught up the horses, groomed, saddled and tied them up. Then I began cleaning out their pens. I never got a paycheck, I got to ride the horses when all the chores were done and that was what I wanted! I went to work at McDonald's when I was 16 full time and I worked part time at the tire store where my Mom was a bookkeeper. I worked both of those jobs until I moved to Colorado. When I got here I landed a cashier job at the Grocery Store- I stayed there until my Father made me quit (power over me.....) When I was 21 and moved out on my own I worked whatever job was available for about a year to support myself. I had

like 5 part time jobs. I finally landed a job as Night Auditor at Silvercreek Resort in Granby. This was full time and I was able to give up all the little jobs. I worked this position for 2 years- was transferred to accounting during my pregnancy and left to care for my premature baby. I then returned to Hotel Management for awhile but figured out that being with my kids was way more important so began delivering newspapers at night as an independent contractor so I could be with the kids during the days~! Personality and Values I swore that I would never be like my Mother- but I am totally like my Mother! I never allowed drinking to be an issue so there is one big change I made from her life but I work non stop like she did, sound like her, think like she did- it is too funny! There are very few days that go by when I don't say - Wow- Mom would have said or did that! Pets Well my husband would say- Becky - PETS - yes she had WAY TOO MANY! But early in our marriage we only had Duke a black lab that Mike picked out. Then we bought a couple of Llasa Apso's - we were going to breed and make millions from puppies. One litter was enough of that pipe dream. Then we bought our (MY) little slice of the American dream - 7 ½ acres. I filled it with dogs, cats, horses, a couple of sheep, a goat, rabbits, etc. Most everything one of my daughters worked with through 4H to learn lots from. But we quickly figured out that although we all wanted to raise our own meat- eat healthy and such, none of us could eat our "pets". So then we ended up with most of the animals dieing from natural causes and being buried somewhere here. Then I started collecting birds - the exotic kind. Well here is the prime example of why you don't let your children lead. Regina was young and very impressionable and we adopted several birds from a local bird sanctuary. We also bought several birds and were up to 12 birds. I was working 2 full time jobs, taking care of horses, dogs, cats, and birds and getting angry at Mike and Adriane ALL the time. Regina was married and living in another state and I was the only one here that cared about any of the animals- but our financial situation was one that I had to work 2 jobs. I finally caved and now today only have 3 birds, 1 dog, and 2 cats. I miss my horses- I miss the adopted birds that I sent back to the sanctuary- I would still love to run a shelter for unwanted animals here, but I know my husband would not supply the financial support for it so I try to stay focused on things he likes and wants. Physical Characteristics I've always been tall for a woman. In school I towered over EVERYONE. I am about 5' 11" tall blonde hair, green eyes. Before childbirth I was skinny- but having children has taken its toll on my body- I am working at getting back into shape but it is taking much longer than I anticipated! I believe I look a lot like my Grandmother Vivian Barkey except I am taller than she was. Raising a Family I had dreamed of being married by 21 and raising LOTS of children. So on my 21st birthday when I didn't even have a serious boyfriend I was quite devastated. But I did recover and Mike and I began living with each other in 1985. We got married in 1988 (November 12, 1988). I've always said we have been married since 1985 - because I treated our relationship like a marriage but Mike only counts from 1988. He had two sons from his first marriage: Eric James Maloney 11/22/1969 and Keith Michael Maloney 6/2/1978. Then we had Regina Ann Smith 2/12/1986 - Had her name legally changed to Regina Ann Smith-Maloney. Nicholas David Smith-Maloney 03/31/1988-03/31/1988, then Adriane Rose Smith-Maloney 04/09/1990. We've managed to stay together and raise our children- help them see all the mistakes a person can make in a relationship and hopefully managed to show them that God bails us out each and every time we need him to. Recreation Well how did recreation affect me or my life. I never have allowed it to. That is a little bit of sarcasm - But honestly we have not taken much time for fun in our life at this point. We took the Kids to Elitch's and Water World in Denver a few times, whenever I/we could earn free tickets through the newspaper companies. I considered the horses my recreation- course that is all gone now..... Mike golfs for his recreation. We've taken very few vacations- we blame it on money but I am not exactly sure why we have never bothered with finding a way to go on vacation. I know that the last few trips I planned - one to Wyoming for my Mom to see her sister and one to Oklahoma for Regina's graduation from City college I worked double shifts and extra everywhere to be able to trade with people and take the time off without having to pay a daily wage on my newspaper route- then out of the blue Mike tags along without a concern as to how much it cost us to pay someone on his route. That frustrated me terribly but I also know that he was keeping me from infidelity and that is a good thing. So at 44 now I keep hoping for a vacation- I told Mike years ago when he went to the Superbowl the first time- I want to see the Kentucky Derby live, then he went to a 2nd Superbowl. The two of us took a quick weekend to Deadwood, South Dakota. He made numerous trips to Nevada to see his son Eric and gamble..... We made a couple of trips as a family to Tucson to see my Mom. Regina and I made one trip to California to see my sister. We made one trip to Acton, Wy as a family to see Mike's property. Then during the stress of the arrest and soon to be conviction I put together the money and sent Mike back East for a week to hang out with Jimmy Lloyd, a lifetime friend of his. He was so exhausted from work and stress I felt he needed it- I don't think he ever understood that I was trying to do a good thing for him- that I wanted someone to carry the load while I disappeared for a week. Just to lay in bed, eat too much or whatever- just not carry all our responsibilities. He started a savings account in 2003 to save the money to take me on a Caribbean cruise. My dream vacation- I think the account has like 200.00 right now- cause we keep using it for bills. Mike deemed cruises unsafe so that is off the list of to do's. So I guess vacations are probably out- but that won't leave a black mark on us so there could be worse things! Relationships and Dating No childhood sweethearts-relationships have always been very hard. I had one official date in high school. His name was David and he wore braces. We went to a party (the kind I try to make sure my kids don't go to!) and he wanted to make out. I did not even like him- I only said yes to the date so people would see me dating and maybe actually ask me out more- I was so concerned my tongue would get stuck in his braces I would not make out with him-he swore to me that if I didn't make out with him I'd never have another date- he was right I never had another date. I've been seriously involved 3 times in my life. I was 15 and in love with an older man- encouraged by my mother and dissolved by her too- I doubt that I will ever understand all of that (I do think alcoholism caused poor judgment on my mother's end). I was dating and semi living with a State Trooper in Kremmling- Roger Kendall. He was interesting- I felt as though we were too different to make a marriage work, but it was fun while it lasted. I also appreciated that we parted friends and would occasionally look each other up and catch up on our lives. I was dating Roger when I met my husband. I knew my husband for a year before we ever did anything- he delivered newspapers to the hotel that I was night audit at. We would visit at night- he was always a gentleman (one of the few men I have ever met that didn't immediately make some obnoxious pass at me). We ended up taking a motorcycle trip together- he was splitting up with his wife and I wanted to "hide" and make Roger worry about me. We ended up hooking up on the trip and pretty much have been together ever since- I guess one good vacation was all it took! Religion Religion has had a huge influence in my life. My mother never took me to church. Sometime from about 10 years old to 13 years old I began attending different churches. I had gone to a Vacation Bible School which is where I accepted Christ as my Savior and wanted to learn more. Unfortunately it is hard to gain knowledge just by attending church. These trials proved very devastating to me. Being abused as I was- told how bad I was and such- then attending hell and brim fire message churches told me I was evil, a bastard child and there was no place in heaven for me. I then met my father whom was raised Mormon and he twisted the Bible even more to show me that I was meant for a sex slave. It took me several years to look for the good in religion. I was baptized in the Mormon Church in Rifle, CO. Their messages began lots of trouble at home- so the girls and I stopped attending. The girls participated in the Baptist Awana program. It is comparable to girl scouts- except they are centered with Bible teachings. It wasn't until our arrest and Mikes time in jail that we came to appreciate Jesus together. He met Pastor Daryl Reeves while he was in jail and wanted the family to attend his church. It is the Crystal River Baptist Church in Carbondale. I don't think either one of us would ever call ourselves Baptists but we are followers of Pastor Reeves. He is the first preacher I have ever met that I truly feel is walking his life for God. He has been an absolute blessing to Mike, the girls and myself. He has buried my mother and married my daughter- I am proud to know him and call him our friend. As I study our family history - I keep coming across different quotes of the forefathers of this nation. One that tells it how I feel is that this country was founded with Christianity not Religionists. Traveling As a young person I always thought I would take off and travel all around America till I had seen everything- I didn't get to do that. I do still dream of it- sometimes it is Mike and I riding Honda Goldwings- other times it is us driving a motor home- Mike isn't wild about either one of those so who knows! But I do think we have grown our roots deep enough that we won't do much traveling - at least not far, just maybe in search of a warm climate with an open golf course. U.S. Expansion and Exploration The U.S. seems to be a country that's always on the move. From adding new territories and states to exploring new regions, the U.S. was often an exciting place to live. Yes at times I feel we are a war hungry nation- always looking for a fight with someone somewhere. I have not spent enough energy learning the how's and why's any nation attempts to expand or be a world power- it used to make me feel safe that we are as strong as we are now I feel we (as Americans) have made ourselves a target for destruction. I feel that we put ourselves into everyone else business and are attempting to be the police force of the earth- it concerns me how vulnerable we are at home. U.S. Industrialization In the late 19th century, the U.S. economic structure changed. Farmers and small businesses gave up their reign and big business was born. Pick this Topic to show how this change affected his lifestyle. Life changed so rapidly for people that I am not sure we have caught up yet. I grew up in a big city- learned go to work, bring home a paycheck, pay bills and that is what life is about. My mother grew up on a ranch where they raised a garden for their food- they canned food to make it through the winter and started over again in the spring. They lived 5 miles outside of town and rode their horses to school and home - after milking the cows and feeding the livestock- I lived one mile from school (elementary, junior high and high school were all one mile in different directions) and walked to and from- until I had a driver's license- my children get bussed to school- today it doesn't matter if you live across the street or in a different town you ride the school bus. We buy our vegetables at the grocery store and complain about the lack of quality and the cost. We bought our own little 7 acres, part of the dream was raising my own food. Well the meat I've tried to raise became lifelong pets because I couldn't bear to kill and eat my pet- and the few gardens I tried were too much without enough time to work them- I may try a smaller easier garden next spring (2007) - we will see. The Gold Rush of 1849 Although I was born long after this I did get to partake in a Gold Rush of sorts. My father was convinced we could live from the gold in the hills and I did go with him 3 years all over the Rocky Mountains in Colorado using a gold pan, a small sluice dredge and we even spent 2 summers in the wilderness region of Holy Cross Mountain- our cousins Clair and Karl Smith hold mining claims for the Treasure Vault Mine up there. We shoveled out 1 ton of ore from a stockpile and got nearly 1 ounce of gold- that only took 6 months and the price of gold was about 400.00 an ounce. It was a 7 mile back pack trip into the area and we lived like people did in the 1800's. It was quite interesting and I am glad I did it because it left me with an appreciation for running water and electricity that I never had before. Settling the Great Plains While searching for Gold we did file some mining claims of our own- since in this day and age it is the only way left to "homestead" land - otherwise you have to buy it - wow, imagine that! Well we had staked out 160 acres in Buffalo Park - my home away from home - but I did finally let the claims lapse knowing there wasn't enough gold to justify them I didn't feel that I could be dishonest and keep the land. Pure Food and Drug Act In 1906, the government passed the Pure Food and Drug Act to improve the quality of these consumer products. I didn't know this. I would like to learn more about this- because I've seen our society not worried about the nutritional factor of food, therefore creating obesity and many health problems from poor diets. It seems to me that it has become so important to raise the farm crops quickly that we have used 'steroids' to mass produce everything from corn to beef and there is little or no nutritional value in anything we buy at a store. The 16th Amendment--Income Tax How did he feel about the passage of the 16th

Amendment, authorizing the collection of income taxes? I've always been a law abiding tax payer but when I read the history of our nation I wonder how we ever thought we should pass this amendment- I am sure our forefathers have rolled over in their graves for this one! Our forefathers founded this country on freedom from taxation and many other things- and we turned around and passed this amendment which has done nothing but grow out of control and take more than a fair share of our income. Scopes: Evolution v. Creation The 1925 Scopes Trial was a landmark case, pitting "evolutionists" against "creationists." What side of this issue was he on? I am a creationist! I like to use the phrase "Well your mother may have been a monkey but mine wasn't!". Seriously in all evolution discussion - when something evolves it disappears and is no longer in existence. So if we evolved from monkeys why are they still here? Our God is much bigger than this argument - he is the Alpha and the Omega. I need not know the how or why- just to believe. (Which is what evolutionist want too, right??) The Great Depression How was he affected by the 1929 Stock Market Crash and ensuing Depression? How did this experience influence his values? Well obviously I am too young to know this time myself, but my parents grew up through it. It helped my mother be very wise with her money. Our generation created the phrase - Reduce - Reuse - Recycle. My mother invented the notion of it though! From Christmas wrapping paper to aluminum foil we saved and reused EVERYTHING- I remember thinking- I can't wait until I am rich enough to through things away- I am rich enough today but care about our planet enough to stick to the rituals my mother taught me- except for Christmas paper- I refuse to reuse it! Brown v. Board of Education Brown v. Board of Education was a landmark case in its time, declaring that separate education was unequal, and therefore unconstitutional. Interesting - when was this case? I just learned this case was in 1954. Which explains why it took 2 decades to get it enforced. I only had 2 black people attend my nursery school and elementary school- they found reasons quickly to not allow them. By Junior High though we were all in school together with lots of racial tension. In High School I made a dear friend, Will. He was black and a senior and I was a freshman, white. He helped me in drama because I sucked at it really bad..... I remember going to defend him one time when some black guys were harassing him about being my friend- he was wise enough to shut my big mouth up and not let it go any further. Although I have lived through large improvements in treatment of other cultures there is still lots of racism between all the races. Which is sad - we are all children of God and need to learn to love one another. The Vietnam War My brother and many other young men enrolled to fight for our country in Vietnam. My brother came home when I was in 2nd grade - 7 years old. He was an alcoholic and drug abuser- nothing like the person that left. I saw many young men come home with physical scars but the emotional scars were worse- much worse. I was walking with my brother in his uniform- and someone ran up to us and spat on Dave, called him a baby killer. I had already felt the hatred but to see it left permanent emotions that I would never blame a soldier for what his or her government forced them to do. My brother was on a supply ship and never actually in combat but he was lumped with anyone in a uniform. I was so proud of him- and yet after that day he put away his uniform and NEVER wore again. Assassination of John F. Kennedy I was 2 years old and don't remember the incident, although I've read and listened to the history of it. I don't have an opinion as to who killed him, only that it was tragic- he was a President of the People more so than a President of the Politics. Civil Rights Act of 1964 The Civil Rights Act of 1964 tried to provide more opportunities to people of all ethnicities and social classes. How did he feel about it? Choose this Topic to show his thoughts and trace how this legislation affected him. This was long overdue- and once again I don't know that it ever will be truly enforced. My mother retired from being a bookkeeper in 1986 making 5.50 an hour. Her male counterparts were usually hired at 8.00 an hour or better. I've seen things equal in some areas but in pay - I've never seen it equal and in respect - women still do not get respect. I do see that minorities in general have more rights than before 1964, which is definitely a good thing. It is amazing that we are still suffering from hate crimes and racism in 2006 but I guess that is human nature whether we want it to be or not. Apollo Moon Landing On July 20, 1969, the men of the Apollo 11 mission landed on the moon. We watched this in class- we didn't get to watch very many things during this era of school so to watch the moon landing on television was quite a treat. I was raised to believe that T.V. was make-believe (or pretend) so I guess that for the most part even though the teacher was saying it wasn't I don't know that I understood it was real. We watched the landing in Mrs. Roche's class 2nd grade. And although most adults were very excited it just seemed as though it did not mean much in my life. Sentencing of Charles Manson What did he think about Charles Manson? To many, the randomness of his killings was frightening. I never knew about the Manson killings until I read the book "Helter Skelter" which was written about the killings. It did make me realize that anyone could die at anytime- at no fault of their own. It concerns me more today, when he comes up for parole- he should not be eligible for parole ever and yet every few years he comes up for review- we want to make sure he stays in Prison. I also do not understand that while in prison he has been allowed to gather a "following" of people. I am a Christian and believe in forgiveness but I find brutal murder unforgivable. The Watergate Scandal Nixon got caught at what all politicians do- most of them don't get caught. In my young mind I remember that Nixon declared the war in Vietnam was over- so my brother, my cousins and our friends came home- he should have received more honor for biting the bullet and pulling out of the Vietnam than he did. But instead they 'discovered' illegal activity and impeached him. We should impeach immoral Presidents such as Bill Clinton having sex in the White house with a young intern- guilty of adultery and abusing his authority. Space Shuttle and Beyond Was he fascinated by the space shuttle voyages? What was his reaction to the Challenger explosion? What did he see in the future of space exploration? Pick this Topic for Writing Ideas on his thoughts about the space program in the 1980's. I was along with the rest of the world the shuttle blow up and kill 7 volunteers and the astronaut crew- at that point I lost interest in space exploration- I know everything comes with a price but human life should not be part of that price. Persian Gulf War What was he doing during the Persian Gulf War? Did he think that the U.S. would make a difference in Kuwait? Use this Topic to describe his experiences and emotions during this time. I do believe we made a difference in Kuwait- we did free this nation from Sadam Hussein. Why we did not remove him from power during that attack is incomprehensible. Had we completed the job the first time over there we would not be involved in this war in Iraq today. America needs to stop trying to police everything that we think is wrong and take care of our homeland.
