CLASS WILL

THE STATE OF TEXAS,

High School of Marlin.

We, the Senior Class of Marlin High School, A. D. 1927, being sound of body and somewhat sane of mind, do hereby express our own will and testament:

Collectively, we heartily bequeath all our grace, beauty, masterful ability to get by in English, our superior intellect and judgment, our high opinion of ourselves, all demerits, and all our left-over credits, if any can be found, to the Junior Class, under the condition that they keep up our standard.

Individually:

I, James Young, bequeath my charming personality and love for all the girls to Burton Pitman. May he succeed as I have.

I, Ollie Fae Bullock, will my "rabbit" to Ruth Bryan for safekeeping.

I, George Golightly, will my position at the Pennant Service Station to the industrious Harman Leach.

I, Carolyn Threadgill, bequeath my ability to play hooky to Mary Elizabeth Wilson, provided she will never lower my standard by getting caught.

I, Rachel Maxey, bequeath my tennis playing ability to Anna Paul Allen —may she keep up the record.

I, Mattie B. Tucker, hereby will my Spanish ability to Neilson Young—provided he will not make over 93.

I, Audivee Henley, bequeath my hair to Elizabeth Richards, with the sole provision that she will not henna it.

We, Lida Pierson and Bennie Forrest, leave to Evelyn Holland and Frank Turner several wads of last year's chewing gum which are still serviceable. They will be found under the tables in the bookkeeping room.

I, Bill Clawson, will and bequeath to any ambitious and energetic Junior boy, my position as general flunky at the "Atlantic & Pacific," provided he will be as gallant and courteous to all old maids and young school girls as I have tried to be.

I, Loyce Jennings, leave to Doris Sullivan my golden hair, so that she will not be bothered in tinting hers in the future.

I, Butheita Loggins, leave my D. E. ability to Olita Goolsby, with the understanding that she will never make below F.

I, Lometa Hays, leave my love for Latin and my ability to translate Caesar to Mary Catherine Smith.

I, Evelyn Phillips, bequeath my height to Jennie Lee Golding.

I, Herschell Criswell, leave my grades in English 4 to C. Reed—may he put them to a great advantage.

I, Juanita Bryant, leave my plumpness to Corene Lebrecht.

I, Thelma Brewer, bequeath my ability to make "A" in Geometry to Lila Mae Steele.

I, Ida Holmes, leave to Mary Corts Grizzard my curly hair, provided she will keep it curly.
