Proclamation.

Whereas, Congress passed a joint resolution approved March 13 1876, recommending the people of the several States that they assemble in their several counties or towns on the approaching Centennial Anniversary of our National Independence...

Therefore, in compliance with such resolution, I do recommend that the people of this State assemble in their several towns and counties on the 4th day of July, 1876, and that they cause to have delivered an historical sketch of said town or county from its foundation...

Letter from Fred Lohff to his Brother at Riverton.

POTATO CREEK, April 30th 1876.

Dear Brother--We got here the 28th of April. We are now about 70 miles north of Custer City, and the gold fields are still north; they will make for the Big Horn country. There are about 1000 miners here now and mining; but old miners think it will not pay. They are taking out some gold. There is work here for man if he can board himself at $4 a day. These hills are full of pilgrims looking for gold.

Old Sitting Bull is about 5 miles north of here with his young backs to scalp us. I cannot tell how long I shall stay here. I shall stay this week. These hills are a fizzle; there is some gold here, but not enough to pay--in about one or two weeks it will tell. There is some snow and frost yet. Grass is poor--teams are poor. There is quite a number going back to-morrow. Bently is one.

Flour is from $25 to $30; pork, 60c; bacon, 65; coffee, 50; sugar 50; apples 40c; beans 25c. I and L. E. Verly bought one-fourth interest in one mine for $25, there is about $300 worth of work done on it. It is on Iron creek. We have one man to work on it to-morrow, and we shall go out to look for some quartz leads. We shall work in company. August has bought one claim to-day for ten pounds of flour.

Your Brother, FRED LOHFF.

"Shall we gather at the River," or have a Fourth of July celebration at Bloomington? We are told that considerable effort is being made to have a big time at Riverton, and that most of our townsmen are going down. This matter should have been attended to before, for we feel quite certain that we could, and can yet, have a rousing celebration, and not be at any great expense either. Much as our citizens should like to go abroad to celebrate, it is morally certain that they cannot do so, and there will be hundreds completely cheated out of any celebration whatever this fourth and Centennial year at that. We have been very successful with our celebrations other years, when we had much less to do...

TO SCHOOL OFFICERS.

Sec. 3, page 116 Session Laws 1875, amending Sec. 31 page 970, General Statutes, provides that "any school district may, at any annual or special meeting, impose a tax on the taxable property of the district in any amount not exceeding twenty-five mills on the dollar, on the assessed valuation of the property of the district, and such tax, when voted, shall be reported by the district board to the county clerk."

Sec. 55, General Statutes, p. 970, provides "said board shall, between the first Monday and third Monday in June of each year, make out and deliver to the clerk of each county in which any part of the district is situated, a report in writing, under their hands, of all taxes voted by the district during the preceding year."

It is requested that any action required under the foregoing provisions be promptly taken at the time provided by law, as any delay not only causes great inconvenience in making up the tax list, but may deprive the delinquent district of a much needed revenue.

Very Respectfully, J. R. McDONALD, Co. Clk. Geo. W. SHEPPARD, Deputy.

John Williams, indicted by a Kearney county grand jury for murder in the first degree for killing David and Thos. R. Vroman, was sentenced last Tuesday evening at Kearney by Judge Gaslin to ten years at hard labor. He was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury in Buffalo county, while a jury of Adams county decided that the killing of the father was justifiable homicide. The Kearney Press adds: "It is plain that, in the opinion of the Judge, Williams was guilty of a higher crime than that of which he was convicted, as he gave him the severest sentence allowed by law."

Times are quite dull all over the country east and west, and we are somewhat hard pressed for the want of a little money to purchase necessary articles of life and use. Yet our prospects at the present time for a brighter future at an early day was never better since the settlement of the Republican Valley, and everybody is working with a will and determination never before witnessed in this section. The fruits of their labor can be seen growing luxuriantly all over the country wherever the sturdy homesteader has pitched his tent, in green fields of waving grain.

The denomination of Christians in and about Bloomington, have completed arrangements for building a respectable church in this city, and will be built in a short time. We are glad to note that their efforts, with the assistance of a liberal contribution from persons of other denominations, are crowned with success, as there has heretofore been a vast deficiency in church accommodations for anything like a large congregation. We understand the Presbyterians will erect a church edifice in this city after a short time.

The Republican City News nails the following ticket to its masthead, and remarks that it judges by the foot how large the elephant is: "For President, James G. Blaine; for Vice President, J. J. Ingalls; for successor to P. W. Hitchcock in the U. S. Senate from Neb., P. W. Hitchcock—whom the bounds bay; for Governor, Siles Garber whatever this fourth and Criminal year at that. We have been very successful with our celebrations other years, when we had much less to do with than now, and under far greater difficulties, why can we not do as well now? Have a meeting of the citizens, at least, and let everybody attend who is in favor of having as good time here as circumstances permit, and say what they can and will do, and make their words good, there can be no doubt about it. All we want is a little stirring up—enthusiasm—and then we can go ahead. While we are winning give our neighbors down the river every credit for their praiseworthy efforts, which they certainly deserve, that, however, does not excuse us; and while many from here may go, it is not justice to those left behind, because some of those going are looked upon and partially depended upon as leaders in such movements at home, and unless those who are unable to go, take hold, and do something they will be left. Let there be only a decent effort made, and we can at least have a celebration we need not be ashamed of.

"Gibbon," a special correspondent of the Kearney Press, writes what appears to be an honest, matter of fact letter, in which he states that the general rush for Deadwood, which is 75 miles north of Custar City, has caused that city to have become sadly deserted. He says the beautiful park business, agriculturally considered, is a fraud, being entirely too small, but for scenery, etc., there is plenty of it, rough and wild as any one could desire. The pine is plenty and good, but by no means excellent; and that there was plenty of rain during the summer season—this far, however, rain is abundant everywhere. Gold is reported to be a success at Deadwood, miners making from $25 to $125 apiece, per day—that is the current report, and not contradicted by parties from there, but as yet his party had not been there, but were going. The gold taken from French creek, near Custar City, though limited in quantity, was very fine in quality, that from the north was much coarser—considerable dust is in circulation. Nobody feels safe, on account of Indians. Everybody is armed, and constantly on the alert, and are expecting more trouble from them in the future. Several parties have been

The above named defendants will take notice that they have been sued by the above named plaintiffs, by the filing of a precept and petition in the district court of the 5th Judicial District, in and for said county of Franklin, and that an order of attachment has been issued in said cause, and that George Buck, Jr., of Bloomington, Nebraska, has been duly notified to appear as Garnishee in the premises; that it is the object and prayer of said petition to recover judgment against the defendants in said action for the sum of twenty-eight hundred and eighty dollars and eighty-seven cents and interest from January 7, 1876, for goods sold and delivered by said plaintiffs to said defendants, at their request.

Said defendants are therefore hereby notified that they are required to file their answer to said petition in the office of the Clerk of said Court on or before the 19th day of June, 1876, or said petition will be taken as true and judgment rendered accordingly.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Court at Bloomington, Neb., this 2d day of May, A. D. 1876.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Remember the Sunday School tomorrow. The library has come.

Dr. Woods, of Riverton, gave us a pleasant call yesterday.

The Platte and the Republican rivers have been on a gentle raise lately.

A small hailstorm originated just west of town the other evening, but without damage to anything heard from.

Rather cool yesterday for the second day of June.

Wild plums will not be a general success this year.

Refreshing breezes from every quarter this week—straw hats at a discount.

Dr. Loyd has planted ten acres of timber on his homestead on Turkey.

Miss Rosa Schlegel will commence school next Monday at the mouth of Turkey.

The corn is coming up nicely, and promises to give us a rousing big crop this year.

One man was found in the county a few days since, who had never heard anything of the Centennial.

Mrs. Males has a Grover & Baker lock-stitch sewing machine she wishes to trade for a pony. She has the local agency for the Singer sewing machine. For particulars inquire at the postoffice.

Starkey trotted his building from his farm, the other day, into town and wheeled it into line opposite the land office on the east side of the street. He intends it for a larber shop.

F. M. Comstock, formerly of the Lowell REGISTER and now representing the St Joseph Steam printing Co, St. Joseph, Mo., made us a pleasant call yesterday. He represents the largest and most complete establishment of this

"Have you seen my black faced aunt-lope?" he inquired of his friend. "No, I haven't. Whom did your black-faced aunt elope with?"

There never was a better time for investments in the west than now, with as good prospects of speedily realizing a handsome return. Roll out, stamps, we are waiting for thee!

The flying cottonwood and willow seed gave rise to a grasshopper report. We did see a few—but very few—of the veritable red shanked hoppers, some three weeks ago, but, like winds, we could not tell where they come from, nor where they were going—they disappeared.

The striped Colorado potato bug is making his appearance here in considerable numbers. Though pretty early for him to be around and tasting of our Murphy tops quite freely, we do not dread him near as much as we do the other kinds which have proved such a pest other years, but we have our first yet to see this year. A little close bug-hunting and destroying the eggs as much as possible now, and when the eggs that have been overlooked hatch out in number to create apprehension, sprinkle them with water in which a small quantity of Paris green has been dissolved, and we think the bug problem is easily solved with us this season.

A word about Paris green. It is mainly prepared to be used for paint; it is said to be very poisonous, and those who intend using it as a potato-bug exterminator, should be cautious about how they handle it—keeping it entirely out of children's reach. It is very fine and dusty—don't expose it in the wind. When it was first used for the purpose of killing potato bugs, frequent reports were circulated of cases of deaths from eating the potatoes, the vines of which had been dusted with Paris green, and the poison had gone into the potatoes. It is reasonable to suppose that the poisoning was communicated some other way than through the potato, but, even if such was the case, it must be remembered that just about twenty times more of the green was used than necessary, beside mixing it in flour instead of water. The latter, we are told, is the best approved of method, using about a tablespoonful of the paint in an ordinary wooden pail full of water, and sprinkled on the vines where the bugs are with a small broom made of fine stiff grass.
