1865 Voters List

J. A. Duvall

Preface

The following list of names from the 1865 Frederick County, Maryland, list of voters was compiled to provide another source of residents who may not show up elsewhere during the period between the federal censuses of 1860 and 1870. At the end of the Civil War, a list of voters was compiled which was related to a voter's loyalty – to the Union or the Confederacy. As you read on you will see the dark side of government was in play - who was considered a qualified voter. Using this list, many individuals will never be known who actually resided in Frederick County because they were not considered loyal to the Union.

The list of qualified voters of the several election districts of Frederick County was recorded under the provisions of "Section 12, Chapter 174 of the Laws of Maryland" which was passed at the session of the legislature of said state A.D. 1865. Laws of Maryland Session Laws 1865, Volume 530, Pages 322-330. The information was compiled from the Frederick County, Maryland Land Records, Liber JWLC 4, Folio 420-461.

The following explanation of the ensuing list appears in J. Thomas Scharf's History of Western Maryland, Volume 1, page 354:

The constitution of 1864 virtually disfranchised nearly two-thirds of the citizens of the State. When the military regime came to an end and civil authority was once more fully established, a bitter struggle for political supremacy at once commenced. The Legislature, which was largely Republican, passed "an act relating to the registration of the voters of the State," which was the first general and permanent registration law in Maryland. By this act the Governor was to appoint from the citizens "most known for loyalty, firmness, and uprightness three persons for each ward in the city of Baltimore, and for each election district in the several counties of the State," who were to be styled officers of registration. They were to "register all free white male persons claiming and entitled to the elective franchise resident in or temporarily absent from the several wards of the city of Baltimore, and the several election districts of the counties." Three persons were also appointed to register the soldiers and sailors of the State in the service of the United States, stationed at convenient and accessible points, who were absent their regular places of voting on account of the nature of their service, and qualified voters at the various camps, hospitals, etc.

To all persons registered they were to administer the oath of allegiance prescribed by the constitution of 1864, and also a further oath that they would answer truly all questions propounded touching their right to vote. They were empowered to exclude from the lists the name of any person who had done any of the acts enumerated in the third, fourth, and fifth sections of the constitution, notwithstanding the applicant had taken the oath of allegiance prescribed in section four of the first article. In pursuance of this law, the Governor appointed registers, who held a convention in Baltimore on the 2nd of August, 1865, and adopted regulations for the guidance and government of registers throughout the State. A series of questions were formulated, to be propounded to the applicant for registration, which effectually excluded from the privileges of the elective franchise not only those who had shown but even those who had felt the slightest sympathy for the Southern cause. The registration, when completed, showed that in Baltimore out of a voting population of forty thousand only ten thousand persons were considered qualified to take part in the political government of the city. The total number of persons registered throughout the State was only about thirty-five thousand in a voting population of ninety-five thousand.
