"The Best in the State East of the Comstock."

Our old friend of the Elko Independent places the SENTINEL under obligations for the subjoined puffatory mention:

"THE EUREKA SENTINEL has entered upon its thirteenth volume and seventh year. Its prosperity, of which it is well deserving, is apparent, and the journal is all its proprietors claim for it—the best in the State east of the Comstock."

Removing to Tuscarora

It would appear that our old friend Hogle is about transferring a portion of his business from Cornucopia to Tuscarora. The Review says: "L. I. Hogle has let a contract to D. C. Tarbell to take down the saloon formerly run by M. L. Henry, in Cornucopia, and remove it to this place. It is nearly new, 16 by 30 feet, and will be enlarged when put up here on the lot adjoining the Howerton House, now occupied by Dr. J. M. Betts as an office."

SHORT BITS.

Foot ball prevails among the youth of Eureka.

W. B. Harrub arrived from San Francisco by last night's train.

Ten car-loads of ore came down from the Richmond mine at noon yesterday.

Two men are working the Tiger mine at the head of New York canyon.

Both passenger and freight traffic is increasing in volume on the narrow-gauge.

"The Turks in Europe" is the subject of Mr. Gray's lecture for to-morrow evening.

Goodwin canyon, above town, was named after Hon. C. C. Goodwin, editor of the Enterprise.

The details of a murder at Halleck station, Elko county, will be found in our telegraphic columns.

A large amount of mahogany wood is being stored on the flat opposite the old Jackson smelting works.

C. S. Crandall, Journal Clerk of the last Assembly, arrived in Eureka by Thursday night's train.

The Banner mine shipped thirty odd tons of ore last week, and has on the dump about fifty tons awaiting shipment.

A. E. Kaye has appointed Professor Stearns Deputy County School Superintendent during his absence from the State.

Mr. De Soto, one of O. Dunkel & Co.'s affable assistants, was taken seriously ill yesterday morning and is confined to his room.

Bishop & Carpenter, the livery men, not to be behind their competitors in the business, have just received several very fine buggies and rockaways.

Our friend Haskell is giving considerable attention to baby carriages these days. He advertises a fine lot among our special notices to-day.

We have been trying to remember for a week to say that Judge Laspeyre has removed his law-office to Ryland's brick building on Bateman street.

Michael Ferry, charged with petit larceny, will have his trial this morning at 10 o'clock in Justice Cromer's Court.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to the social event of the season, which will take place at the Methodist Church next Tuesday evening. Happy man!

Book Agent Redewill is doing a land office business in the sale of books and pianos. He has contracted three pianos, and disposed of books up into the hundreds.

Dan. Foley, commonly known as the "Big Bonanza," was not the man mentioned in yesterday's SENTINEL as having appropriated Uncle Chandler's lumber.

A fellow bought six boards and then stole enough lumber to build a respectable-sized hotel. Justice Cromer will tell him to-day what he knows about the lumber business.

Ed. Rodgers was convicted yesterday, in Justice Cromer's Court, on the charge of petit larceny, for stealing lumber. He will be sentenced to-day at 10 o'clock.

The School Trustees of Ruby Hill district have appointed Mr. George Reek as teacher of the public school at that place, vice Mr. Stearns, who assumes charge of the Eureka school.

The Trustees last evening appointed Mr. A. Stearns as Principal of the Eureka public school, for the unexpired term, which will end on the first of August.

At the Jubilee concert last night, Miss Della Rayno was presented with a basket of beautiful flowers at the conclusion of her singing "She is the Belle of the Ball," by a gentleman appreciator of the lady's vocal abilities.

The Jubilee Singers gave another of their very pleasing entertainments last evening. The house was not crowded, but the audience was a very appreciative one, and highly enjoyed the singing.

In our article yesterday concerning the affairs of D. B. Immel & Co. we inadvertently said there was no money in the hands of the assignees. This was a mistake. They found about $1,500 in the vault, which sum is still in their possession.

Captain Chamblin has been indulging in a week's recreation, visiting his old friends in Winnemucca, Battle Mountain and Elko. During his absence the old veteran, Dave Taylor, has had charge of the train.

A private conveyance arrived from Hamilton yesterday, bringing over Bob Meyerhoff, en route to the Black Hills, Chas. Butelar, delegate to the Masonic Grand Lodge at Virginia, and Otto Boetzel, who will remain in Eureka.

W. H. Davenport, Esq., was elected Deputy Grand Master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of the State of Nevada, at last Thursday's session of the Grand Lodge in Carson. An honor worthily bestowed.

F. Loewy has disposed of his news business to Jacob Lowenthal and Morris Kalischer, a couple of bright young men who have grown up chiefly in this town. Mr. Loewy departs shortly for Europe, for the purposes and objects stated sometime since in the SENTINEL.

We notice that our old friend Judge Lawler is running the mining department of the San Francisco Exchange. Judging from the excellence of that portion of the paper we should say the Judge was as much of a success in his new field as he was when he manipulated Vallejo's primary elections.

The SENTINEL office returns its best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brandt for a great quantity of eatables and drinkables; also for an invitation to attend the birthday party of Mrs. Brandt last evening, which, we are informed, was a very agreeable affair. May there be many happy returns of birthdays in that family.

Our friends at the Sheriff's office were heavy purchasers at the recent flower sale, and have devoted all their spare moments to the cultivation of roses, fuschias and other beautiful shrubs. We regret to state that, notwithstanding all the time lavished on them, they have one by one faded away, and not a solitary bud or leaf remains. Jo. has preserved one of the roses in water, and whenever he gazes at it hums, "'Twas but a little faded flower."

THE MORRISITES.

A Walla Walla Child Claimed to be a Second Christ.

It is not generally known perhaps that there is a religious sect in this State which is styled the Morrisites. It is an off-shoot from Mormonism and flourishes to a considerable extent in Carson valley of this State. The Carson Valley News states that last summer an ancient pilgrim with long disheveled hair and disgusting appearance, who claimed to be the Prophet Daniel, preached to the Morrisites in Genoa. He informed the credulous Genoese of the second coming of Christ in the person of a child born in Walla Walla, Washington Territory. This tale of the Prophet Daniel made such an impression on R. J. Livingston, an old resident of Genoa, that he recently sold his property and has left for Walla Walla that he may hereafter live and die near Christ. It appears that Livingston is not the only one in Carson Valley who is infatuated with this belief, for recently a great exodus from there to Washington Territory has taken place. All of them want to live and die near Christ. Their ambition is laudable.

Coal at Palisade.

The recently discovered coal mine at Palisade is developing into a fine vein. Messrs. Ferguson & Young are busily engaged sinking a shaft and have attained a depth of twenty feet. The vein grows larger and better defined as developments are made, and the company are very sanguine of the future importance of the mine. Quite a quantity of the article has been brought to Palisade and submitted to various tests, all of which have proved that it is of a superior quality. Johnny Bell tried it in his engine and claims it is better than the Rocky Mountain product. Prof. Price examined a specimen and pronounced it a first-class article of coal. The benefits that will accrue to Palisade in the event that it proves to be a permanent and large deposit can hardly be estimated. The great want of the Central Pacific Railroad is coal, as at present they are at the mercy of the Union Pacific and draw their supplies from that source. Any discovery that would render them independent would immediately command a large price, and we have no doubt but they are watching the developments at Palisade, ready to become purchasers at the right time. We hope our Palisade friends may live to see their town become a second Pittsburg.

Leeds.

We are under many obligations to Geo. C. Johnson, of Pioche, for some rich and curious specimens from Leeds District. Among the number is a piece of sandstone, the grassroots still clinging to it, and showing native silver all over its surface, petrified wood impregnated with ruby silver and a mass of pure chloride that will go as high as $8,000 per ton. Clay Simms was also the recipient of a number of specimens of the same character, which he has added to his fine cabinet.

The formation around Leeds is a puzzle to the scientists, and the occurrence of silver in comparatively recent geological periods upsets many fine theories. The miners are not troubling themselves as to how or when it was deposited, feeling very well satisfied to find it in paying quantities. Quite a lot of selected ore has been shipped to Pioche for reduction, but the camp will never reach its full measure of prosperity unil it possesses facilties to reduce the vast amount of low grade ores in sight that will not bear the cost of transportation. This want is about to be met by the erection of several mills—already under way—and all those interested in the camp prophecy big returns on their completion.

Did Not Catch Him.

One of our restaurant keepers endeavored to intercept a defaulting customer who purposed taking his departure on yesterday morning's train. The fellow had worked two months without putting up a cent, giving an excuse last month that some outside creditor had garnisheed his wages (a false statement,) but promising to settle this pay day. He drew his money yesterday, avoided his creditor during the day, and made a bee line for the railroad depot the next morning. He was too smart to show up in the waiting room, but hung around the outskirts of the train until it started, when he jumped aboard. The creditor finding himself outwitted, called the telegraph into requisition, but here the fellow was too smart for him again, leaving the train at Bullion station and footing it for some point on the Central Pacific railroad where constables and telegrams would not enterfere with his movements. He got away with $200 that lawfully belonged to those who were foolish enough to trust him, and no doubt congratulates himself on his dishonest strategy.

The Matinee.

The Jubilee Troupe will give a matinee performance this afternoon for the benefit of the ladies and little ones who have found it inconvenient to attend in the evening, and also an evening entertainment, the last of the season. There will be an entire change of programme, and we advise everybody to avail themselves of this last opportunity of hearing the quaint melodies discoursed by the company.

"A Good Lively Paper."

The Tuscarora Review has this to say of us:

"THE EUREKA SENTINEL has entered upon its thirteenth volume and seventh year of its existence, and is as prosperous as ever. It is a good lively paper, and deserves the full amount of patronage it receives."

Altitudinous.

Water boils at the sea level at 212 degrees. Every 320 feet of elevation is equivalent to one degree of the boiling point. Water boiling at 190 degrees would approximate the altitude at 7,000 feet; which is true.

J. M. FOLEY.

Murder at Halleck Station.

A Young Man Instantly Killed by a Negro.

CITIZENS IN PURSUIT OF THE MURDERER.

ELKO, June 8.

At Halleck's Station yesterday afternoon, a young man named Jas. Finerty, a son of the late Justice Finerty, was shot through the right breast and instantly killed by a one-eyed negro named Sam. Mills. It is said Mills entered the hotel at the Station and attacked the lady of the house with a knife. Some man present knocked him down, and he left the house, soon returning with a loaded gun, which he held against the door outside. Young Finerty said he was acquainted with the negro and would pacify him, and opened the door for that purpose, when the negro fired with the above result. The negro then ran off, took the first horse he met and disappeared. Three of the citizens armed themselves and started off in pursuit. As they have not been heard from up to this time nothing is known as to the result, but it is said they won't trouble the county to hang him. Sheriff Seitz, of this place, promptly went to the scene of the murder and offered a reward of $100 for his capture.

GRAND LODGE I. O. O. F.

Proceedings of the Second Day.

The Grand Lodge met at 10 A. M., pursuant to adjournment, Grand Master Batterman presiding. The roll of lodges was called, and a quorum found to be present. Grand Chaplain pro tem., J. D. Hammond, invoked the Divine blessing. The minutes of Tuesday's proceedings were read and approved. An invitation was tendered by Superintendent Crawford of the United States Mint, offering the hospitalities of that institution to members of the Grand Lodge. The Carson Lodge requested the Grand Lodge to visit the said lodge this (Wednesday) evening. The Grand Lodge concluded to accept the invitation, and visit as a body. The morning session was mainly occupied in receiving and acting upon reports of committees. At 11:30 A. M. the Grand Lodge took a recess until 1 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Grand Lodge reassembled at 1 P. M. The reading of reports was resumed. At 3 P. M. the Grand Lodge went into secret session for the purpose of listening to an exemplification of the secret work by the Grand Master. It was resolved to hold the next session of the Grand Lodge at Virginia City on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1878.

In Their Old Quarters.

Burt and Hamilton, alias "Two-two Johnny," the two prisoners who escaped from the county jail about two weeks ago, are back in their old quarters. They were identified and arrested in Winnemucca on Wednesday night last. When arrested, Burt denied that he was the party wanted, and he said his name was Brown. On being notified, Sheriff Sias went down, and last night returned with his prisoners. As they entered the jail Under Sheriff Nelson complacently remarked: "Well, boys, have you had a good time since you left?" but the boys were reticent, and made no reply. It is not all likely they will get another chance to escape. There was some doubt about the original offense constituting grand larceny, but now it is a sure thing that they will take a trip to the Warm Springs. Under the law jail-breaking is a felony, punishable by a term of years in the State Prison.

"The Leading Newspaper of Eastern Nevada."

The Reno Gazette is entitled to the thanks of the SENTINEL for the following first-class notice:

THE EUREKA SENTINEL has entered upon its thirteenth volume and seventh year. It has stood by Eureka through evil and good repute, and now that the camp has become second in the State, it is reaping the reward of its former services. The SENTINEL is the leading newspaper of Eastern Nevada. Its editorials are good and its local columns are full of interesting city and mining items. We wish the SENTINEL continued prosperity.

Armed Neutrality.

This is what is being maintained by the respective claimants of the Union mine on Prospect mountain. The writer passed the mine yesterday and found the parties all on the ground and as social as though nothing was wrong between them. They taunt each other occasionally, but their remarks are generally good-natured. The Emmet representatives sleep on the dump, while the other side occupy the Union tunnel. There is no work going on, all hands simply laying off to await the decision of the Court on the 16th.

The Prize Concert.

As hitherto announced, the grand prize concert, to be given under the auspices of the Cornish Glee Club, takes place at Bigelow's Hall next Wednesday evening. Besides a splendid entertainment, an elegant bedroom set, valued at $300, is to be given to some person in the audience holding the lucky ticket. The Glee Club will be assisted by several ladies and gentlemen of Eureka. The boys have always volunteered for everything of a charitable nature, and therefore deserve a crowded house. The programme appears under the head of "New To-day."

"Spicy and Newsy."

Commenting on the SENTINEL's new volume the Lyon County Times has the following:

THE EUREKA SENTINEL began its thirteenth volume with the issue of Friday last. It is a spicy and newsy paper, well made up, and a credit to the town whose interests it so ably represents. We are glad to learn that the SENTINEL was never more prosperous.

PACIFIC COAST.

SAN FRANCISCO.

THE LOST STEAMER INQUIRY.

Remarkable Development in the Pinney Case.

Terrific Explosion at the Hercules Powder Works.

THE PROPERTY A TOTAL LOSS.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.

In the city of San Francisco inquiry to-day, Benjamin Craig, who had been for fifteen years master of coast vessels on the Atlantic, contradicted the testimony of Riddel that the steamer was only six or seven miles from land when she struck. The estimated distance is not less than 10 or 12 miles. This corresponds nearly with the testimony of Captain Waddell and other witnesses.

The most remarkable development yet brought out by the Pinney trial has resulted from the examination of the various certificates in the hands of the defense by prosecution, the startling fact appearing that not one of the 12 certificates deposited by Pinney in the Masonic Bank and on which $225,500 in gold was loaned him is indorsed by the party in whose name it was drawn and is valueless as collateral to Pinney's note on which it was given.

The Hercules powder works, located between the Alms House and Golden Gate Park were destroyed about noon to-day by an explosion in the nitro-glycerine house. The workmen had all gone to dinner in a house some three hundred yards distant from the works. They had just reached the dining room when the explosion took place. The report was heard a great distance. The glycerine house was blown to atoms, and pieces thrown several hundred feet. The ground in the vicinity of the works was strew with debris, as fine as if it had passed through a quartz crushing machine. The concussion of the atmosphere was so great that windows and doors were caved in, several thousand yards distant. Two men only were employed in the glycerine room. They had run off the forenoon charge of about 500 pounds of glycerine, and deposited it in the soda tanks in readiness to be converted into powder before leaving for dinner. This was all the explosive material there was in the building. The contents of the mixing house, about one hundred yards distant from the glycerine house, were not effected by the explosion. There are from 23 to 35 hands employed about the works—mostly Chinamen. Fortunately they were all at dinner. The cause of the explosion is a mystery. The buildings belonging to the works were cheaply constructed, and probably $15,000 will cover the actual loss. These works were destroyed by an explosion about two and a half years ago.

A Case of Small-Pox.

There seems to be no doubt that there is a case of genuine small-pox in town. It is located a short distance above the Episcopal Church, on Spring street. The patient is Miss Lulu Beardsley, who lately returned from Bishop Whitaker's school at Reno. The disease must have been contracted either at Reno or on the way home. Dr. Bishop, we understand, gives the opinion that there can be no mistake about the case being small-pox. Yesterday the yellow flag was displayed from the premises, and every precaution is to be used to prevent the spread of the contagion. We do not apprehend that the scourge will become epidemic. Warm weather and small-pox do not go well together. It is well enough to be cautious, but we do not fear serious consequences from the appearance at this time, of small-pox in our midst. The old time Eurekans are not likely to get much alarmed. We had here in February and March, 1872, nearly one hundred cases.

Variety.

It is curious to see what a variety of goods may be found sometimes in a small store. As an example, we call attention to the Golden Rule, adjoining Paxton & Co's Bank. There you can find a first-class selection of hats, caps, boots, shoes, white and fancy calico shirts, woolen shirts, handkerchiefs, woolen socks and suspenders, cotton underclothing, miners' changes, stationery, postage stamps, perfumery, tobacco, cigars, window shades, upholsterer's goods, mattresses, blankets, violin and guitar strings, musical instruments, sheet music and a string of other articles too numerous to mention. It is astonishing what success M. Joseph has met with as a reward for his industry. He imports direct from Europe and pays duty on all the fine cutlery he carries; also on meerschaum pipes, cigar holders, brier-root pipes, cigar cases, and many fancy articles, which enables him to sell these goods lower than any other house in Eastern Nevada. He is a liberal dealer, and is deservedly popular with the people of both town and neighborhood. His motto in business is "cheap for cash." His system has been from the start "one price to all alike," while his polite attention to all customers gains for him the friendship of all with whom he comes in contact. No wonder that Morris Joseph succeeds in business, or that we, with so many others, wish him continued success.

New Grocery.

Dan McNicol, the irrepressible, has just opened out a new grocery and provision store, next door to Sweeney's livery stable, where may be found the freshest and choicest goods in his line. Try them.

Wanted.

Tom Maupin, of the tin shop on Main street, advertises to day for second-hand cook stoves. Here is a chance for housewives to sell off their old stoves and get new ones.

"Among the Best in the State."

We are obliged to the Enterprise for its favorable mention of our new volume. It says:

The Eureka SENTINEL has entered upon its thirteenth volume. The editor says it was never more prosperous. We are glad of it. The SENTINEL is one of the best of our exchanges. We remember its first issue, seven years ago. It was believed then to be a doubtful experiment, but there was no occasion for any fear. The mines of Eureka are, among mines, what the SENTINEL is among journals: among the best in the State.

George Hill in Jail.

The officers here are in receipt of a letter from Deputy Sheriff Lew Wines, of Elko, informing them that George Hill, late of Eureka, has been convicted of petty larceny and sentenced to 25 days in the Elko jail. Deputy Wines says Hill "rolled" a drunken miner and got $14. The evidence was conclusive, and had the amount exceeded $50 he would doubtless have taken a trip to the Warm Springs. Hill left here with the intention of going to Tuscarora.
