Jan. 20, 1887

—A look at the rows of blanketed horses daily tied along the streets this winter, furnishes pretty good evidence that the Humane Society has had a good influence and saved many a horse from shivering in the cold. If a mistake or two has been made, the good accomplished is more than an offset.

—The special committee chosen by the Cleveland City Council to select a site for the proposed City Farm School, reported last evening in favor of purchasing the Parmly farm of 470 acres in Perry township, Lake county, at a cost of $25,850. The Committee were unanimous in their recommendation.

--Mr. & Mrs. Christopher Viall, of Mentor, who have been residing with their children in Cleveland this winter, have lost two of the children to diphtheria. We wish to correct that information: Julia, age 3, died of tonsillitis, and Thomas, age 5 months, of exhaustion.

--Jan. 11, 1887, a pleasant company met at the home of W. W. Barnes, of Perry, to celebrate the sixth anniversary of their wedding.

Horse Stolen but Quickly Recovered

Mr. G. E. Stevenson left his horse and cutter standing on State street, near the corner of Main, Wed. evening. About 8:30, the rig was stolen. Mr. Stevenson fortunately is a member of the Independent Order of Home Guards and at once notified C. T. Morley, Capt. of Camp No. 10 who at once sent telegrams to the neighboring towns and notified members of the camp who went in search of the horse and thief:

Austin, John
Mather, P. F.
Streator, S. F.
Smart, H. T.
Doty, Geo. W.

That Reform School – A Protest

A citizen of Perry publishes a protest against the proposed location of a Reform School for boys in LeRoy. He considers it illegal for Cleveland to make Lake County a dumping ground for its incorrigible, vicious and criminal classes. It will not create a market for anything as the amount of land purchased is sufficient to raise all the fruit, grain, hay, vegetables, meat, etc. necessary for the support of the inmates. J.J.T.

--Mrs. Nelson Norton died last Friday night.

West Mentor

Kirtland

Another pioneer woman of Kirtland has died, Mrs. James Thompson. She was born in Maine in 1800, her maiden name was Lois Hodson and she was married in 1825, and came to Kirtland in 1835. She suffered much from cancer and died Feb. 3, 1887. Her husband and a son and two daughters survive her. She was taken to Mentor and will rest there.

--The death of Mrs. Markell, widow of John P. Markell, once associate judge of this county who died some 5 years ago, adds another name to the list of pioneers departed. She was 83 yrs. old and her maiden name was Filch. She was born near Rochester and came to Kirtland in 1825 and not long after, married Judge Markell. She died Jan. 29, 1887.

—Workmen are still employed on the Temple, putting it in readiness for the great conference which meets here on the 6th of April next. This date a little more than a half century back, is the date of the beginning of Mormonism. A much larger gathering of the Saints is anticipated than occurred here before. The expenses already incurred must be considerable; a single thousand would not cover it. The winds and storms, the frosts and rains, of half a century nearly, had denuded the walls in many places of its plastering. The plastering has been replaced and the marking, though unfortunately the color of the new plaster is different from the old. The members belonging to this part of the church was set down as near as I can remember at about 25,000. We shall know next spring what the gain has been. We understand that meetings through all this week will be held at the Congregational house. Mr. Dumm, their new minister, will take charge.

---Mr. Austin Damon, of Kirtland, one of the oldest settlers in that town, died Monday night.

Accident to Horace Alvord- Horse Killed

When Mr. Horace Alvord was driving across the Richmond street crossing of the Lake Shore railway this morning, he had an accident. One train passed and he could not see the other one coming, which struck his horse and buggy and threw him across the culvert and struck on the grass and had only some scratches. Two of the horse's legs were severed and he was killed to put an end to his suffering.

Death of Mary Scofield

From the Philadelphia Times
 The announcement of the death of Miss Mary Scofield, daughter of Judge Glenni W. Scofield, at an early hour this morning, was a great surprise to the large circle of friend of the family, but not unexpected by the family. The young lady had been in ill health for some time and came to Washington for the milder climate.
 From the Warren, Pa., Mail, Feb. 22, 1887
 Last June, Miss Mary M. Scofield, the youngest child of Judge & Mrs. Glenni W. Scofield of Warren, was partially paralyzed in a single night. After care and medical treatment, she slowly recovered enough to walk and ride out. She died Feb. 17th, 1887. The family came home to Warren with the remains.
 Miss Mary Scofield was a niece of Mr. J. F. Scofield of this city.

Radcliffe – Died in Painesville, O., Feb. 27, 1887, Jennie, wife of Mr. Fred Radcliffe and eldest daughter of Mr. & Mrs. E. T. Donaldson, of this place.

A little son, but a few hours old, preceded this young mother to the life immortal; and we thought as we gazed upon these pale sleepers in their snowy bed, 'mid flowers and tulle which loving hands had so artistically placed about them, what a smile of satisfaction rested on the mother's face as she clasped in her arms of love this tiny form, and we doubt not that all who witnessed this sad picture felt a sympathy deep from the heart for the bereaved ones who are left so desolate.

Kirtland

--April 10th has been a great day for the Mormon Conference. The number of people assembled in the Temple at the 10 o'clock service is estimated as high as 1,500. Every available foot of standing room was occupied. The wedding that was to have come off, and so announced to the people, may have had something to do in calling so great a crowd, but they are such a singular people, so full of faith as they have it, claiming such extraordinary power, the working of miracles, discerning of spirits, &c. About 100 Mormons or thereabouts are present. Joseph Smith, son of the first prophet, and head of this church, reorganized, is present. Lambert, of Chicago, Blair, of Missouri, Lake of Canada; all men of considerable intellectual ability. All concede that Smith is a very able man, but the man who wears the belt in the matter of making proselytes is one Cornish, born in Canada and when converted to Mormonism eight years ago could neither read nor write. He now lives in Reed City, Michigan. He bravely and calmly informs us that things have been wrought through him as God's instrumentality, which, when compared with similar works of St. Paul, leaves us greatly in doubt as to which was or is the better man. There is a difference in miracles. Raising the dead calls into action a mightier power than healing from fever; so to cast out of a man or woman an evil spirit or devil, is a greater work than to heal one of lameness, but Cornish can make even the devil's mind him; they come out when he commands them. But this suggestion offers itself: What good does it do the world to cast out a devil from some unfortunate and then allow him to go into some other person. There isn't one devil less. If they could be killed when cast out, so much would be gained, but the way the work is going on the world will never be fitted for the ushering of the millenium. After all, a thousand years compared with eternity is but a moment, and I suspect the Saints, with all their miraculous powers must in some way have made a mistake as to the phrase meaning of the millennium passage. I am not strenuous about it. There is one thing, however, that must be, and most willingly is conceded, that so far as deportment, and language is concerned, they are in every sense of the word ladies and gentlemen, and also carry with them every appearance of honesty, but their claims are of such tremendous nature that they must excuse us if we take time to consider.

Sudden Death

Mr. James Condon died quite suddenly Friday. He was out on the street and in usual health. A little before 10:00, he complained of not feeling well and was taken home and died within 5 mins. of reaching the house. The remains were taken to Evergreen Cemetery. He leaves a wife and eight children—three boys and five girls. He was 57 yrs. old and had been in this country some 35 yrs. He came to this country at 22 yrs. of age, a poor man, and has accumulated a comfortable fortune.

Personals

--Mrs. Nancy Potter, and old resident of Madison, died in Geneva Monday.

—The Painesville friends of Mrs. Jonathan F. Card of the Forest City House, Cleveland, are pained to hear that she is very dangerously ill. Mrs. D. Brigham of Milwaukee and Mrs. Alonzo Gosline of Toledo, have been unremitting in their attendance upon their mother. Mrs. James Rhodes, the youngest daughter and her family are in Europe where Mr. and Mrs. Card expected soon to join them. They were to sail from New York early in May.

A Woodchuck Story

Mr. Wills Woodruff, of Concord, who is 86 yrs. old, is one of the oldest residents in the county having moved here from Litchfield Co., Conn., in 1822. Since he was 82 yrs. old, he has shot 208 woodchucks, that pest of so many farmers.

Eureka

Dr. S. P. Huntington, of Eureka, Kansas, writes a letter to the editor.

Twenty years ago to-day Asa Childs, W. W. Nevison, a Mr. Sanborn and myself left Painesville to locate land in Kansas. On arriving at Humbolt we found W. W. Curdy living very comfortably for that day over his store in a small story and a half frame house. Mrs. C. said on seeing us drive up she for the first time shed tears in Kansas (I suppose we did look hungry). It coming on to rain heavily and the streams being very high and no bridges in the country, our party all turned back but myself. I came on to Greenwood County, and on arriving on the spot where Eureka now stands there were but three houses in a radius of over one mile, and so little travel was there on the main road from East to West that there was good pasturing in the track.

Obituary

W. W. Branch died at his home in North Madison, Ohio, May 31, 1887. Judge Branch was born in Aurelius, Cayuga Co., N. Y., Aug. 31, 1804. His father was the late Deacon Wm. Branch, of Madison, who was born in Preston, Conn., and was a soldier of the Revolution. His mother was born at Pittsfield, Mass. His father moved to Chautauqua Co., N. Y., in 1814, then to Springfield, Pa., then to Kirtland, O., and finally to Madison in 1836. In 1834, he married Lucy J. Bartram, of Madison. She and their nine children, four sons and five daughters are still living.

Married

--June 8, 1887, Mr. Frank M. Shepard and Miss Mary L. Stowe, both of Lake Co.

--In LeRoy, June 6, 1887, Mr. Albert Sitis, of Perry and Miss Jennie Warren, of Thompson, Ohio.

Willoughby

--Mrs. William Wallace has gone to Frankfort, Ind., her mother's home.

--Next Wed., Mr. & Mrs. A. F. Elwell celebrate their fifth wedding anniversary.

--High School Graduating Seniors:

Humphrey, Mary

Chesbro, Nellie

Stevens, Dora

Holmes, Alice

Holmes, Jessie

Clark, Josephine

Taylor, John

Dewey, Walter

Ferguson, Graham

--Harold Clifford Penfield, infant son of Mr. & Mrs. Penfield, was christened in the Methodist Church last Sunday.

By common consent the Baccalaureate sermon was delivered in College Hall and other services dismissed. Mr. Edmunds delivered a really excellent discourse on "Come let us reason together." He showed that there had been and is to-day objections about real facts, citing several cases to illustrate. The pianist was Mrs. Ackley and the choir consisted of Mrs. Wells of Kirtland, Misses Glen and Gertrude Penfield and Will Wilson. All were in splendid voice and the musical selections were beautiful and so well adapted to the voices.

South Madison

--Mrs. Addie Crook, of Ashtabula, is visiting her parents in Thompson.

Geneva

--The body of Mrs. Crowel, wife of Capt. W. H. H. Crowel, of Buffalo, N. Y., was brought here for interment last Friday.

Perry

--Frank Shepard and Mary Stowe were married last Wednesday.

--Orange Ball, a former resident of Perry, who has been spending some time here visiting friends, has returned to his home near Grand Island, Nebraska.

Reunion of the Benjamin Family

The first reunion of the Benjamin family was held Aug. 29th, in a grove near the home of Deacon F. E. Benjamin in South Madison. Benjamin and Dewey families were present. There were over 102 families present. Mr. O. F. Bridge, of Topeka, Kansas, read a history of the Benjamin family compiled by his brother, George A. Bridge, of Boston. The first to American was John Benjamin who arrived in Boston, Sept. 16, 1632. One of his descendants, Levi was married and left for Ohio the same day, Sept. 23, 1822, his brother, Arba, coming some 10 to 15 yrs. later. Levi Benjamin made the trip from Mass. to Ohio in 38 days in a wagon pulled by oxen and one horse. His oldest son is Deacon Foster E. Benjamin. Levi married Rebecca Emerson and four children were born to them: Foster, Newton, Mark, and one daughter the wife of David Bailey, of Madison. Arba Benjamin's children: youngest son, John; Mrs. Catharine Tosier; Luther, of Petersham, Mass.; Mrs. Clarisa Reynolds, of Rock Creek; Mrs. Clymena Clapp, wife of G. M. Clapp, of Concord; Levi, of Madison; Mrs. Susan Dewey, of Madison.

Mentioned:

Abbey, Wm.
Turner, F. S.
Austin, Ad.
Reynolds, S.
Murray, G. A.

Fire and Loss of Life at the Northern Ohio Insane Asylum.

A fire broke out in the laundry department of the Northern Ohio Insane Asylum Wednesday evening last, and rapidly spread to the Chapel where three hundred and fifty patients were enjoying their usual weekly dance. Of course a stampede was the result, but by the heroic exertions of the attendants and others many lives were saved and most of the inmates properly taken care of. Seven lives were lost, among them Miss Jennie B. Hall, Miss Eveline Scribner and Mrs. Charlotte Knowlton, all of Ashtabula county.

The building where the fire originated has long been considered unsafe and had the fire broken out in the night doubtless the loss of life would have been much greater.

Trouble at Fairport

The strike of about 200 ore dock hands at Fairport is creating more excitement in other places than here. The Cleveland Press has erroneously reported that a bloody fight took place here and that some men were killed and wounded. Nothing of that kind occurred. The striking dock hands refused to allow other men to go to work and to avoid bloodshed, Sheriff Austin telegraphed Gov. Foraker for aid to protect those who desired to go to work. The Gov. ordered 100 men of the Fifth Regiment, Cleveland, to be in readiness for any call from Sheriff Austin.

Obituary

Died at the home of Mr. Frank Wolverton, Washington street, Dec. 5th, Mrs. Clarina Bentley, age 76 yrs. Her maiden name was Clarina Bronson and she was born April 19, 1812, in Winchester, Litchfield Co., Conn. She was one of seven children. One sister became a physician in a day when it was an almost unheard-of thing. Clarina married Sept. 9, 1833, Charles Bentley, of New London Co., and took the stage to Albany, by canal to Buffalo, by packet to Cleveland, and then to the newly settled country of Streetsboro, in Summit Co. Here their children were born, Lurette P., Charles and Edwin S. When the children were 8, 5 and 2 yrs. old, the father died. It was a proud and happy day when the only daughter graduated at Lake Erie Seminary, at which institution she became a teacher. Funeral services were held at the house of Mr. Frank Wolverton, Dec. 7th. The burial will take place in Streetsboro.
