James Hayman and his family lived in Bryan County, Georgia about 30 miles west of Savannah. James enlisted as a private in the company commanded by Capt. M. C. Livingston in the Regiment of U. S. Volunteers commanded by Col. William Bailey. He enlisted at San Pedro in Madison County, Florida in March of 1837 and served until Sept. 15, 1837 when he was mustered out at Ft. Brooke. At the time of his enlistment, he was described as 5'10" with blue eyes, black hair and light complexion. In October of 1837, James Hayman moved his family to Madison County and he remained a resident of Florida for the rest of his life. He served three more enlistments during the Indian Wars: Feb. 12, 1838 to Aug. 12, 1838; Aug. 12, 1838 to Nov. 12, 1838; and from Aug. 19, 1839 to Sept. 20, 1839 - name of commander not given.

The Hayman family moved to the present day Hernando County area in 1841. James received 160 acres of land under the Armed Occupation Act. It was described as follows: "Beginning at a corner on a stake and running due north forty chains to a corner, thence running due east forty chains to a corner, thence running due south forty chains to a corner, thence running due west forty chains to the place of beginning. Being in about a mile & a half N. N. E. of Lake Lindsey and in about three quarters of a mile of Scott's Road and between seven and eight miles of Chicuchatta Settlement." The registration was dated Feb. 27, 1843.

In October of 1850, James Hayman applied for and received a bounty land warrant for 160 acres in Hernando County. He moved to Polk County about 1868 living in the Bartow and Homeland areas. He died at Homeland on Oct. 16, 1873 from a long and severe case of chronic articular rheumatism involving both bladder and kidney. A. Smoot Johnston was the attending physician. He was buried in the Oak Hill cemetery at Bartow.

Mrs. Delila Hayman lived with her children at Bartow in Polk County and at Owens in DeSoto County. She applied for and received a pension of $8.00 a month based on her husband's service in Capt. Livingston's Company during the Indian Wars. Mrs. Hayman died at Floral City on March 31, 1894, aged 87 years.
