George Washington McClelland 1853-ca 1895

Researched, compiled and contributed by Clifton A. McClelland,
1112 James Street, Whiteville, N. C. 28472.

George Washington McClelland was born December 24, 1853 to Gabriel J. McClelland and Lydia Ann (Smith) McClelland. Gabriel J. McClelland was the son of Silas and Penelope McClelland. He enlisted as a private in Captain Sparkman's Company in the Third Seminole Indian War February 18, 1856, and he died in service at Camp Station July 8, 1857 from typhoid fever. Lydia Ann was the daughter of George W. and Caroline Smith. After Gabriel's death, Lydia Ann applied for a widow's pension March 23, 1859, and was awarded one at the rate of $5.50 per month. She drew this pension until she remarried Allen D. Douglas Jan. 12, 1860.

After her remarriage, the pension of $5.50 per month was awarded to George W. McClelland, and Baxter M. Smith was appointed his guardian, July 11, 1860. George did not live with his mother, but was raised by his grandparents, George W. and Caroline Smith. He was living in their household in 1860 and 1870 census of Hillsborough County, Florida. George W. McClelland was one of the heirs in George W. Smith's will, July 28, 1869, probated February 21, 1873.
